

NEW YORK LIVING MAGAZINE

May 2007

New Developments in Chelsea

By Steve Cutler

Indigo Condominium, 125 West 21st Street

Designed by FXFOWLE Architects, the condominium has angled indigo-colored strips on a zinc façade. Amenities include residents' terraces on the second floor and roof. Apartments feature Brazilian cherry floors and doors and double-glazed Sestito windows, most over seven feet high. The kitchens have quartz kitchen countertops, Poggenpohl cabinetry and Viking appliances. Penthouses have Sapele mahogany floors and doors and private terraces.

www.indigo-21.com